TO SAVE THE EYES OF SMALL PUPILS

Board of Education Committee Will Devise Plan for Protection of Little Optics.

WRITING PERIODS SHORTER.

The members of the Tuesday Club were Too Much Penmanship Said to Be Injurious-Educational Museum to Be Installed in New Teachers' College.

> The Instruction Committee of the Board of Education has decided to adopt a plan to save the eyes of first-year kindergarten pupils in the public schools. To place a greater safeguard around the evesight of the little boys and girls who are just starting in on their school days, the Instruction Committee decided yes-terday at a meeting to recommend to the board at next Tuesday's session to shorten the time allotted to writing.

Teachers have found that too close at tention to writing by the small pupils is injurious to their eyes. This being reported to the committee it was decided to shorten the writing periods and give the little ones some sort of manual work that will not cause such a strain on the eyes and at the same time prove instructive.

The committee's recommendation, it is believed, will be readily adopted by the board.

An educational museum is to be established in the new Teachers' College, which is to be built at Park and Theresa avenues by the Board of Education. The building will be ready for occupancy in September,

The Instruction Committee received a report that the exhibit of the city schools at the World's Fair had been removed from the Education building and taken to the Wyman School, where it will be stored until the Educational Museum is opened. GETS EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS.

cation has received parts of every educa-Fair, and these will be installed in the museum with the work done by pupils of St. Louis schools and those of the schools of nearly every other city in the United States.

of nearly every other city in the United States.

The new Teachers' College building, it is said, will afford ample space for the installation of the exhibits.

The application for a school building on Florissant avenue near the city limits was laid over until the next meeting of the committee.

The plans for a gymnasium, to be added to the new Shepard School, at Wisconsin avenue and Salena street, were approved. In view of the 'arge number of applicants who desire to take the normal course in the High School, the committee will recommend to the board that restrictions be placed on the number. It was decided that only the best of the pupils in the various classes should be admitted.

The committee set the date for the High School graduating exercises for Friday, January 27, at the Odeon.

It will be recommended to the board that, as New Year's Day falls on Sunday, there will be no school on Monday, January 2, but that the Christmas holidays shall extend to Tuesday, January 3.

Examinations of applicants for teachers and principals of the public schools will be held on December 28, 29 and 30.

WILL MEET AT COLUMBIA. Many City Teachers Will Attend

State Association's Sessions.

Many of the teachers of the city schools will attend the ressions of the State Teachers' Association at Columbia on December 27, 28 and 29. Assistant Supe ceived a letter yesterday from A. Ross Hill, dean of the Missouri Teachers' College at Columbia, saying that he is making arrangements there for the entertainent of the teachers, and has assurances that ample quarters will be provided for all at reasonable rates. Professor Hill is chairman of the Recep-tion Committee at Columbia.

CURED BY CUTICURA

One Application Soothed Him to Sleep. Cure Speedy and Permanent.

"When my little boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash, which was very itchy and ran considerable watery fuid. We tried everything we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish staff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing his skin around his wrists. He got so weak and run down that he took fainting spells like we would think him dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he were

It took one box of Cuticura Cintment, pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap, and about half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, to cure. I think our little boy would have died only for the Cuticura Remedies, and I shall always remain a firm friend of them."

CLAIMS INCREASE IS NOT JUSTIFIED

Statement of F. J. Firth Excepted To by Attorney Mayer, Who Produces Statistics-Prouty Uses Strong Simile.

Chicago, Dec. 6.-At to-day's session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Frank J. Firth, chairman of the "Uni-

According to these figures the profits of the various railroads for 1903 were considerably in excess of those of 1902. After a perusal of the figures, Mr. Firth testified to their veracity.

"It seems to me," said Commissioner "It seems to me," said Commissioner Prouty, "that if you hold a pistol to a man's head and, at your suggestion, he gives you his valuables, he does not do it voluntarily; he has no alternative. It appears that the shipper will not accept the 30 per cent service because he cannot afford to do it. Is it not the proposition of the companies to practically force the shipper to take the limited liability service because the companies do not wish to become the insurer?"

Mr. Firth said he could not speak except from his own experience; that on his road the experience was if the company insured the goods they were unable to tell in what condition they had been packed, and were helpless in arriving at a just settlement.

packed, and were helpless in arriving at a just settlement.

A number of witnesses at the afternoon session testified that no trouble was met with under the old bill of lading in negotiating loans upon them from banks until the railroads announced that a new bill would be issued and the so-called 20-percent increase was called to the attention of the bankers as well as the words, "not negotiable," which are printed on the new bills.

tion of the bankers as well as the words, "not negotiable," which are printed on the new bills.

Then the witnesses testified that the banks announced that they would not handle such a proposition and the shippers became frightened and sought the commission for a settlement of the question.

pers became frightened and sought the commission for a settlement of the question.

Among those who testified along these lines were: F. T. Bentley, traffic manager of the Illinois Steel Company; George J. Stebbins, secretary of the Grain Dealers' Association; C. C. Bovey, representative of the National Millers' Association, and Herbert Bradley, traffic manager of the Millers' Association of New York. A telegram was read before the Commissioners from William A. Nash of the Corn Exchange Bank, of New York stating that the bank would not exchange loans for the proposed bills of lading.

From remarks to-day of a number of attorneys representing the railroads interested in the hearing, the testimony offered to-day came as a surprise to them. A number of those attorneys asked that the hearing be adjusted so that they could learn what action the officials of the roads wish to take. Mr. Firth, president of the Uniform Bill of Lading Committee, said that over 50,000,000 of the new bills have been printed, and that they will go into effect January I. but that there will be no material change if the commission desires to wait thirty days or more.

This brought objections from Attorney Mayor, representive of the Shippers Association, and the hearing was adjourned until to-motrow morning, with the surgestion of the Commissioners that the railroad attorneys get together and arrive at some definite concusion concerning what they intend doing. Attorney Mayer said that his testimony would be completed at to-morrow's session.

BUSINESS PAPERS NOT BAGGAGE.

BUSINESS PAPERS NOT BAGGAGE. Decision of Lower Court Reversed on Interesting Point.

Jackson. Miss. Dec. 8.—An important legal point was passed upon by the Su-preme Court last evening in the case of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road vs. the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road vs.
the Georgia Home Insurance Company, from the Circuit Court of Warren County,
The insurance concern had in its employ a special agent, who checked a trunk over the railroad from Natchez to Baton Rouge, via Vicksburg. The trunk contained business papers valued at several thousand dollars, and was lost in transit; whereupon the insurance company entered suit to recover their value.

The decision hinged on the proper legal construction of the word "baggage," and Chief Justice Whitfield, in reading the opinion of the court, declared that business papers, personal memoranda, etc.
do not constitute baggage, and the insurance company's agent had no right to ship them as such. He laid down the rule that baggage consists only of such articles personally used by the passenger, and incident or necessary to his journey. For instance, the sportsman can check his gun case or fishing outfit, the artist his easel, the student his books, etc.; but papers incident to a business transaction do not come within the meaning of the word, and in this instance the papers belonged to the company, and not his agent. The amount of damages claimed was $25,000, and the court reversed the verdict of the lower tribunal.

STOCK AND BOND PROPORTION. Large Excess of Preferred Securities

for Last Three Years. Poor's railroad statistics for 1903, recently published, contain two entries of exceptional significance. The total capital stock of American railroad companies is given at $6,355,207,335, and their bonded de $5,722,216,517, or an excess of bonds over stock of $367,009.182.

Taking the same authority, the excess of bonds over stock in 1902 was $387,000,000.

In 1901 stock and bonds were nearly equal, with $5.978.786,249 for the former and $6.035,469,741 for the latter. In 1900 stock exceeded bonds by $45.753.495, and in the year preceding by $87,323.154.

But for the twelve years preceding, except in a single year, the bonded debt predominating and usually by several million dollars—in 1822 the highest disparity being reached, when stock stood at $4.563.119.673 and bonds at $5.406,325.004. Extending the comparison for a period of thirteen years still further back to 1874, inclusive, it is found for that period no significant disparity in the two sets of securities.
